

Introducing...

Trish McMillan Loehr is a certified professional dog trainer and certified dog behaviour counselor, and holds a Master's degree in Animal Behaviour.

Trish has managed dog daycares, worked with shelters and rescue groups, taught classes, and trained dogs, cats, and horses. During her seven years with the ASPCA, Trish was director of the animal behaviour department at the ASPCA's New York City shelter, helped assess and rehabilitate animals from cruelty, hoarding, and dogfighting cases. She also helped create and present several popular webinars on dog and cat behaviour and handling.

She now owns Loehr Animal Behavior in North Carolina.

Shelter Animal Behaviour Workshop

This is a 2 day Workshop to be held at AWLQ's Gold Coast Rehoming Centre. This Workshop will cover:

- Defensive dog and cat handling techniques
- Canine Playgroups
- Canine introductions
- Recognition of early behavioural indicators for cats and dogs
- Criteria setting

Workshop content will include theory and practical, hands on activities. Places for this Workshop are extremely limited. Attendees are required to make their own way to the Workshop location.
